AMPLE DEFENSES FOR NAVAL BASES URGED BY BAKER

A. L. BRADFORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Nov. 26—Defenses of the naval bases and posts with armaments able to withstand the most powerful navy of the world "should be pushed to completion with the greatest speed," was made by General L. H. Beach, chief of engineers, in his annual report today to Secretary of War Baker. Proper provision has not yet been made for efficient sea-coast defense of all important strategic areas and naval bases, because of the lack of sixteen inch guns and howitzers, according to Baker who recommended that no additional armament of less calibre of power be installed at points where defense is absolutely necessary.

THREE KILLED IN SPEEDWAY RACES

TWO RACERS CLASH AND ROLL DOWN INCLINE AND CRUSH OCCUPANTS
(By United Press)

Los Angeles, Nov. 26—Eddie O'Donnell, auto racer, injured in a speedway race yesterday, died early today. Gaston Chevrolet and Lyall Jolls, O'Donnell's mechanic, were also instantly killed when cars driven by O'Donnell and Chevrolet came together in a two hundred and fifty mile race yesterday. O'Donnell sustained a fractured skull and both arms were broken. The two cars rolled down the incline together, landing in a heap on top of the drivers and mechanics at the bottom of the track.

John Bresnahan, Chevrolet's mechanic, escaped serious injury.

Chevrolet's standing at the time of his death won for him the national automobile racing championship for 1920. The championship is computed on the point basis.

Gaston, the youngest of the three Chevrolet racing brothers, won great fame in the five hundred mile Indianapolis speedway race this year, making a record of 88.16 miles an hour. Roscoe Searles was leading every lap finishing first in the speedway race here yesterday. Ed Miller won second place and Eddie Hearne third.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS PROCEEDINGS

DISARMAMENT MAIN TOPIC OF DISCUSSION—WOULD STOP
PRIMATE MANUFACTURE OF ARMS

By HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Geneva, Nov. 26—The league of nations assembly expected to conclude the week's work today with hearing of reports by the commission. The program calls for adjournment until Tuesday.

Disarmament was the main topic in the assembly today, the commission beginning its session yesterday practically had instructions that recommendations for the present must be held within reasonable limits.

Delegations declared the league must give proof of its sincerity but refrain from extreme demands until all large nations are members of the league.

It was expected the commission will recommend prohibition of private manufacture of war material, regulation of traffic in arms, and exchange of military information.

The assembly was expected to take up today the demand of the Australian delegation that a reply be made to Germany's mandate note.

Commission committees are hard at work on plans for an international tribunal. It is believed there are chances for its adoption at this session of the assembly as slight amendments have been made.

STABILIZATION OF PRICES BEGINNING

ACCORDING TO A BULLETIN OF
THE FEDERAL RESERVE
BOARD ISSUED TODAY
(United Press)

Washington, Nov. 26—Stabilization of prices is beginning, according to a bulletin by the federal reserve board issued today.

"The problem of complete financial readjustment said the board, now centers around prices of goods and accumulated stock upon a big basis corresponding to the new level of prices, which must be established. It may be expected that as older accumulations are disposed of the new goods at revised price levels take their place, a more natural situation will gradually develop.

Calling attention to the decline in prices of building material the board said this should tend to stimulate the resumption of business purchasing on a large scale.

The board gave figures showing production and consumption of several basic commodities as an increase. The list includes crude petroleum, coal, pig iron and cotton.

THE BRITISH ARREST SINN FEIN OFFICERS

ACTING PRESIDENT OF IRISH RE-PUBLIC, FOUNDER OF VOL-UNTEERS INCLUDED
(United Press)

Dublin, Nov. 26—Sweeping down on the leaders of the Sinn Fein movement British forces today arrested Arthur Griffith, acting president of the Irish republic; John McNeill, founder of the Irish volunteers, and several other high officials of the republican organization.

Griffith was arrested at his home here at 2 A. M. today. The charges against him were not made public.

Since the murder of fourteen British officials in Dublin Sunday, there has been great activity and hundreds of suspects have been gathered in by soldiers and police.

The attacks last Sunday were supposed to have been engineered to destroy evidence British officials had compiled against Sinn Fein leaders.

Many documents destroyed in the raids and most of the officers shot were connected with the intelligence department of the British army.

Griffith is chief of the Eireann, the Irish parliament and acting president of the republic in the absence of Eamon DeValera.

It is believed the documents captured recently in the wholesale search by Irish officers and military were implicated with plots of extremists, or that the government had decided to make a clean sweep of all Sinn Fein leaders, moderate or otherwise.

HARDING INSPECTS PANAMA CANAL

AND LISTENED TO STORIES OF CITIZENS AND ZONE OFFICIALS
CONCERNING THINGS NEEDED
RAYMOND CLAPPER,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Balboa, Nov. 26—President-elect Harding concluded his personal investigation of a canal zone day when he returned to Colon. Harding saw the canal as a private citizen. In a similar capacity he listened to stories of citizens of the zone and canal zone officials. As a result it was expected investigation of conditions may be ordered when he assumes office.

Dissatisfaction of Panamanians in the matter of tolls for American shipping, improvement and fortifications, are some of the matters brought to his attention. An inspection of fortifications of the Pacific are one of the items of today's program. Officials here had asserted defenses are not strong enough to cope with the recently devised armaments of world powers, and that improvement must be made to insure their safety under aerial attacks.

Assurance of American friendship for Panama was extended to President Parras in Thanksgiving day greetings.

"We are more than friendly neighbors quaffing the cup of more cordial associations," Harding said. "We are spiritual partners in one of the most gigantic advances in the twentieth century. I trust you find in the zone a reflection of righteous Americanism."

U. S. ARTILLERY FOR A BIG ARMY

Washington, Nov. 26—The United States for the first time in half a century has on hand sufficient artillery to equip a large size army, Major Wm. J. Snow, chief of field artillery, said in his annual report today. This is due to the large quantity of guns, howitzers, ammunition and other material left over from the war.

"Should war unfortunately break out in the next few years we could spare the spectacular drilling with wooden guns, one man telephones and similar equipment that characterized the first year of the present war," Major Snow said.

Snow urged annual appropriation for an experimental program in artillery development by the ordnance department and field artillery.

WAS SHOT LAST SUNDAY, ACCI-DENTALLY RE-CLAIMS WOM-AN ACCUSED OF SHOOTING

Ardmore, Okla., Nov. 26—Jake L. Hamon, millionaire oil king and republican national committeeman, died at Hardy sanitarium shortly after 8 o'clock this morning. Acute dilation of the heart caused his death, it was announced.

Hamon had been nursing a gun shot wound since last Sunday. He walked into the sanitarium here Sunday and said he had accidentally shot himself while cleaning his gun which he was preparing for a hunting trip. His story was accepted without question until Monday when a warrant was issued for the arrest of a woman who had acted as his bookkeeper and secretary for several years. She was charged with shooting Hamon. The national committeeman and the woman were also accused of a statutory offense.

The woman, whose name is Clara Smith Hamon, has not been located. She obtained the name of Hamon through marriage to a distant relative of the oil king. According to reports here she had never lived with her husband.

Hamon and the woman had occupied adjoining rooms at a hotel here for several weeks.

Mrs. Jake L. Hamon was in Chicago with her two children.

U. S. OBJECTS TO FRANCO-BRITISH OIL AGREEMENT

TO DIVIDE OIL SUPPLY OF MESO-POTAMIA WHICH HAS BRIT-ISH MANDATE
(By United Press)

Washington, Nov. 26—The United States absolutely repudiated the Anglo-French agreement on Mesopotamia oil. Officials here today awaited reaction from Europe to Secretary of State Colby's note protesting to Great Britain. The note is expected to influence the league of nations meeting at Geneva on the question of the method of administration of the mandate.

Great Britain holds the mandate of Mesopotamia.

What effect Colby's note will have in the light of Germany's recent protest against distribution of mandates over her former colonies by the allies also is awaited with interest.

The Colby note addressed to the British foreign minister, Lord Curzon, was in protest against the San Remo agreement between Great Britain and France for an apparent division of the oil supply of Mesopotamia.

CHURCH AND STAGE CLOSELY LINKED

(By United Press)

London, Nov. 26—Never before in London have church and stage been so closely linked together.

While most of the plays now running in London are of a sermonizing disposition, preachers are taking advantage of this to attract large congregations to their churches by preaching sermons on the subjects which hold footlight sway.

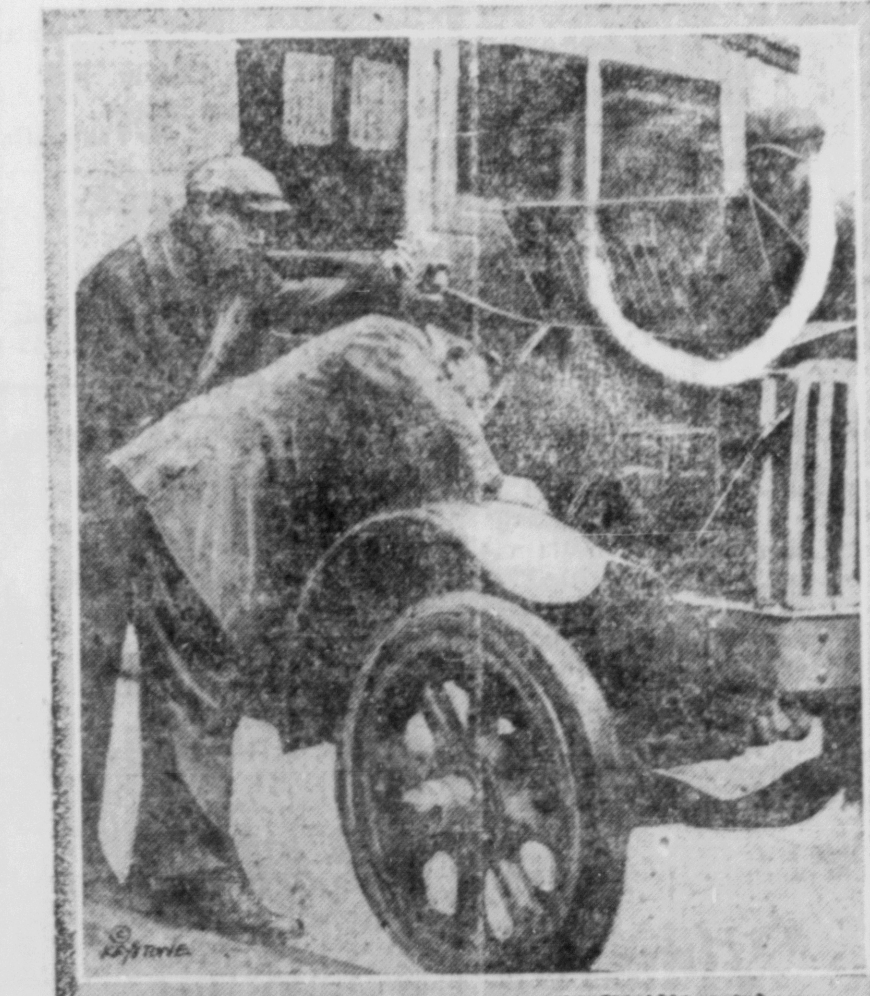

In the little church of St. Thomas, Rev. Clarence May has started a series of sermons, each one dealing with a moral as pointed out by the stage. His first sermon was on the "Unknown," a play by Somerset Maugham, which has for foundation the problem "Has the war killed faith?"

The next sermon dealt with "The Wandering Jew," a play in which Matheson Lang is showing the sufferings of the Jews through the ages.

Another sermon has for its basis "The Crossing," a play dealing with an earth-bound soul in which the dead appear in "spirit form" on the stage and converse with the living.

"The Right to Strike," a play which is drawing multitudes to the Lyric Theatre, also drew multitudes to the Rev. May's church when he announced it as his text for the next sermon on his list.

May intends next to discuss the problem of human hypocrisy as it reveals itself in "The Prude's Fall," now being played at Wyndham's Theatre.

After having been specially trained a squad of New York policemen have been assigned to examine automobiles standing in the street and in storage in an effort to lessen accidents and to discover stolen cars. They look particularly for defects in brakes and steering gear which would be a menace to public safety. The photograph shows a policeman looking for an engine number to complete his report.

CLINICS ARE FOR PARENTS, TOO

Parents must try to make every effort to accompany their children to the clinic. Children can be told about caring for their health and brushing their teeth and how to protect their eyesight, but it is expecting too much of them when it comes to giving them instructions on remedial care.

Very few mothers would send a child alone to the family physician for an examination if they were really interested in the child's health. Nevertheless, specialists in children's health, in dentistry and in eye and ear diseases have left their offices in the cities and spent days examining children and talking to children as best they could, trying to explain and make clear to childish minds what care and treatment their particular conditions of health were in need of. Not that parents do not come to clinics at all—many of them do—and that clinic which is attended by parents and children is termed a successful one, for when parents can be reached the clinicians are almost certain that their work is not in vain.

Children forget very quickly, but long after the clinic the mother can remind the child of the little health lessons which they learned together. Often too, there are things which the doctor must discuss with the parent. Perhaps an operation may be needed, the child may have some organic disease, or he may be "coming down" with some infectious disease. It's next to useless to attempt to explain such things to a child. It would be difficult for the doctor to explain to a parent just what treatment a child needed without having seen the child, but it is nearly as bad to explain to a child what treatment his parent should see that he obtained without seeing the parent.

To take the best advantage of these clinics which County Public Health Associations are giving, every mother should resolve that when the nutritional, the dental or the eye clinic comes to her town she will be present with her boys and girls in the endeavor to make use of every opportunity which will make her children healthier.—The Minnesota Public Health Association Journal.

THANKSGIVING DINNERS

Hotel Ransford, the Ideal Hotel and West's Cafe Advertise Special Dinners

Many people of Brainerd took advantage of the Thanksgiving dinner service advertised by hotels and restaurants of the city. They offered attractive menus, providing the comforts of home without the cares of home.

At the Ransford hotel the Thanksgiving special dinner was well patronized from noon to 2:30 o'clock, from 6 to 7:30 p. m. Dinner parties were numerous.

The Ideal hotel service extended continuously from noon to 8:30 in the evening and the main dining room and the booths were all well patronized. Tables were nicely decorated for the occasion. The turkeys were cooked to a turn.

At the West Cafe, L. J. Shugart had a special menu which pleased patrons. Many were served during the day and family parties were numerous.

Quinn-Wobig

On Monday, Nov. 22, at 4 P. M., the marriage of Miss Frances Quinn, formerly of Brainerd, and Elmer E. Wobig of Pine Island, Minn., took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Quinn, 1123 Grand Ave., St. Paul, the Rev. Father J. C. Myrnes officiating.

Mrs. F. M. McCabe was her sister's only attendant. P. M. McCabe was best man. An elaborate wedding supper was served to thirty guests. After a short trip, Mr. and Mrs. Wobig will be at home in Pine Island.

Entertains Friends

Mrs. E. A. Simmons entertained at her home, corner of Grove and Ninth streets, several of her friends Tuesday afternoon. A very enjoyable afternoon was spent. Covers were laid for eight.

She Says It Can't Be Beat

Deep seated coughs that get hold of one in Autumn should be stopped now or they may continue all winter. Mrs. Wm. F. Davis, R. F. D. 1, Short Creek, W. BRAINERD'S OLDEST STORIES

Mrs. Charles Heath and Mrs. J. Murphy saw a crow today. The bird sat on the back fence and was crowing very lively. Whether this means a belated fall or an early spring is not known. Or the crow may have missed connections flying south and was going to stick it out in Brainerd.

Along with this crow story is one told by a lady to the Dispatch, and she did not wish her name mentioned. It was to the effect that while out at the lakes near Brainerd she saw a large number of snakes. When a snake hasn't got sense enough to dig a hole and hibernate, it must mean an open winter.

Father John Crean of Brainerd and Pine River, on his way to his new parish at Bovey-Colemaine, said he was out hunting and got a fawn. He fired at a buck but got the buck fever and scattered shot in every direction except near the animal. The woods around there looked as if an army of woodpeckers had put down a barrage. The gun which Father Crean loaned to a Brainerd man two years ago was eventually regained and armed with it Father Crean shot the fawn.

Entertain at Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Branchaud entertained at Thanksgiving dinner a group of friends and relatives. Covers were laid for 12. Dining room table and room were prettily decorated.

THE RED CROSS DOLLAR

In issuing its annual Roll Call appeal, the American Red Cross announces its desire to continue and expand its overseas activities. Perhaps some Americans are surprised to learn that the Red Cross is still busy with work abroad. Col. Olds, director of the European commission, recently in this country, gave a few of the reasons why the great American relief organization is still needed in the war zone. In France and Belgium, where local committees have been organized in several thousand villages and communities, the American Red Cross remains the chief adviser and organizer of the relief agencies and their work. The Red Cross is teaching to the old world the best things in American child care, public health and social care methods.

Farther east, in European Russia and in Central and Southeastern Europe, the Red Cross and several other organizations with big hearts for service still have more than they can do in clothing, feeding and strengthening the ragged, undersized, disease-stricken children of the refugees. A statement in one magazine which is helping to put across the Red Cross Roll Call says:

"Possibly as many as five of an estimated eleven million war orphans need everything that money and social service can provide. Even where they are helped by their own governments, the provision made is often of the most primitive sort; these children are herded in barracks which no American would recognize as orphan institutions; their ailments are insufficiently attended to; they are not even clean. Help for them must come from the outside, since the countries where the evil is greatest are still almost completely disorganized."

With this gigantic humanitarian task before it, the Red Cross does not forget or neglect its home service. It continues its good work of establishing health centers where the whole family from babe to grandparents may receive care and advice; of sending out public health nurses; of making communities safer, healthier and happier; of helping service men, civilians and their families.

The answer to the Roll Call for any person is simply a dollar. In the approaching Christmas holidays, no dollar could be better invested and none more thankfully used than the dollar contributed to the American Red Cross.

LANGUAGE AS A PACIFIER

An American born in Europe, who has been traveling abroad and studying conditions resulting from the war, writes:

"Few men and women of even moderate education in Europe, in the next generation, will be without a knowledge of English. All over Europe men, women and children are studying the language of America as never before. It is being rapidly adopted in the curriculums of their schools. Our failure to understand Therefore, You, and Each of You, are hereby cited and required to show cause, if any you have, before this court at the Probate Court Rooms in the Court House in the City of Brainerd, in the County of Crow Wing, State of Minnesota, on the 27th day of December, A. the problem of Europe is in no small measure due to our inability to understand the language of Europe. How easy will be that understanding when that language is our own! How potent will be Anglo-Saxon ideals, how beneficent their influence!"

Here is something worth remembering, in thinking of future international relations. When all the important foreign nations are able, and accustomed, to express their views in our own language, and have the knowledge of English and American institutions, culture and ideals that command of the language implies, it certainly ought to be easier to get along with them, and easier for them to get along with each other. A common language is the greatest of pacifiers, especially when it is the language of the greatest and most pacific of nations.

TRUTH ABOUT IRELAND

The foreign question of most interest in this country today is the Irish question. It is, therefore, highly desirable that the truth should be known about it.

At present it is almost impossible to get the plain truth regarding conditions in Ireland. The best information the newspapers can obtain is colored before it reaches this country. Each side plays up one set of facts and suppresses another. Statements made in behalf of Ireland or Great Britain are always biased, no matter how sincerely their representatives may try to present the truth. Every controversialist is under suspicion of being misled by excess of zeal.

Americans are almost unanimous in sympathizing with Ireland, and in desiring that Ireland shall obtain freedom, even to the extent of complete independence, if that is what Ireland wants. Nearly all Americans believe that the British government has treated Ireland oppressively, and that the present repression and violent reprisals perpetrated by the British army are inexcusable.

But Americans want to know the whole situation. They want to know not merely what the English have done to Ireland, but also what the Irish have done to the English, and what the original incitements were, and how the wrongs and murders on both sides balance up; what proportion of the Irish people are for independence, what proportion for moderate home rule, what proportion for continued union with England, and all the rest.

There are two organizations in this country that profess to give the public the facts. One is the "Committee of One Hundred", which has been holding hearings lately, and the other is the newly formed "Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic". The former is the more judicial body of the two. The latter is primarily concerned with propaganda. It may be doubted whether either, or both together, will provide the full information desired. What the country needs is some organization, under auspices unquestionably disinterested, to ferret out the facts of this strange welter of idealism and assassination, freedom and tyranny, religion and politics, which is present-day Ireland.

THAT EARLY SHOPPING

The usual pleas to the public to do its Christmas shopping early are to be seen on every hand. Some people will obey the injunction, and indeed are to be seen even now with furrowed foreheads and closely clutched Christmas lists. But the standing army of those who put it off to the last minute will be well recruited, as always.

Because this is a somewhat uncertain year in business, there will be a larger number of people than usual who will decide to give no presents. They will hold to their determination heroically until about Dec. 23, and then go pro-Christmas with a rush. Besides these people, there will be the grand old guard whose nature it is in any circumstances to consider any amount of time as plenty of time, no matter how much of it lies behind them.

There are several good reasons for lining up with the early birds. The stocks are better, the clerks less tired, and leisurely selection is usually in the interest of economy as well as otherwise more satisfactory. Perhaps the best reason for buying gifts now is that it leaves the shopper free to enjoy the spirit of Christmas when the day draws near, instead of being distracted with hurry, or pestered with a guilty feeling that while all the world was thinking of somebody else he was wrapped in his own concerns.

RUSSIAN REFUGEE NEW HOPE HERE

Aged Father of Theodore W. Isajeff of Backus Manages to Leave
Riga, Russia

SUFFERED TERRIBLE ORDEAL

Seven Years of War, Famine, Misery
Went—So Changed Him Son
Hardly Knew Him

After years of effort on the part of Theodore W. Isajeff of Backus, the latter has been able to get his aged father from Riga, Russia, to this country. The son, who is a prosperous farmer and business man of his community, sent his father money over a year ago through Berlin for his passage to America. The money lay unclaimed in the Bank of Berlin and depreciated, because of fluctuations of the mark, one-quarter of its value.

The elder Isajeff eventually managed to cross through to Berlin and take a ship to America. The son met his father at the depot in Minneapolis and so changed was his appearance from years of suffering, privation and almost starvation, that neither recognized the other and it was only through questioning that the young man was able to identify his parent.

The last seven years of life in Riga was a stormy period filled with revolutions and counter revolutions, all bombardments, war, famine, misery, want, peril. A son and two daughters, also two grandchildren, remain in Riga, and they are making efforts to leave the country. The red propaganda is strong in Riga and the district is in continual danger of aggression from both sides. There is food in the district, but it requires a fortune to live anywhere on the fare which is common in America. Potatoes sell at $4 a pound. Butter, milk, white flour and most of the other commodities of every day life here, are now almost unknown there. The elder Isajeff like his son speaks six languages. Before the war the father was a rich merchant owning a department store in Riga. It is believed rest and loving care will restore his shattered health.

Proceedings of the Board of County Commissioners, Crow Wing Co., Minnesota

Pursuant to adjournment, the Board met at the court house in the City of Brainerd, on November 15th, 1920, at 7 o'clock p. m. Present Commissioners Crust, Erickson, Boppel and Syreen.

On motion, Wilkins & Pettyjohn were awarded $2,844.06, as their eleventh (11) estimate on Job-1907, SR. No. 8, and the auditor directed to issue his warrant covering.

On motion, the County Attorney was instructed to notify John LaDoux to complete the job of trimming the trees at the court house grounds according to verbal agreement.

After a personal investigation by the board the claim of Mary E. Hunn, for damages incurred to the SW 1/4 SW 1/4 and the W 1/4 of NW 1/4 SW 1/4, Section 35, Township 137, Range 26, on account of the construction of State Road No. 8, over said lands, was rejected for the reason that the benefits received are greater than the damages incurred.

On motion, Frank Lindstrom was awarded $150.00 damages on account of SR. No. 8, being constructed over his cultivated field in the NW 1/4 SE 1/4, Section 22, Township 137, Range 26.

The matter of the rental from McCree, Moos & Company, of their screening plant located at the detold Gravel Pit was discussed and it was the sense of the Board that the county could advantageously purchase this plant and apply the rental thereof on the purchase price, as per agreement with the owners.

The committee's report covering the inspection of State Roads Nos. 1, 2, 6 and 8, were read and approved.

The following bills were allowed: Peter Moe, construction dragging, Job-1907, SR. No. 6

Clifford Jackson, Known as "Buck",
Home from Rhinelander, Wisconsin, With Parents

Clifford Jackson, known as "Buck" is home for Thanksgiving holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Jackson, of 1024 Whitely Avenue, Northeast. Mr. Jackson is a papermaker, worked at the mill here and at Rhinelander and has gained renown as a boxer.

The Rhinelander Daily News publishes this regarding Mr. Jackson.

"One of upper Michigan's future pugilistic stars, 'Buck' Jackson, will make Rhinelander his headquarters during the winter. Jackson, who is a middleweight, hails from Manistique and within the last year has been very successful in the squared circle. He will go into training with Sailor Bill Perkins and during the coming season will participate in several bouts here."

Jackson's foot work is especially clever and he gained that by being an expert at repairing "breaks" in paper. Any one who has seen a bunch of paper-makers hopping barefooted on rolls and making the repair with the machines going full blast, knows it takes some head and footwork. So ring generalship comes easy to "Buck".

HIBBING CATHOLICS PAY TRIBUTE TO FATHER HOGAN

Hibbing, Nov. 25.—Paying tribute to Father Hogan of the Church of the Blessed Sacrament as one of Hibbing's best known ministers of the Gospel and as a citizen, whose many civic acts will not soon be forgotten, a crowd which filled the McGorrick hall, composed of members of his parish and people of all denominations, bade goodbye to him at a public reception Wednesday night. Father Hogan was presented with a purse of $2,200. The children of the church presented him with a chalice.

Father Hogan will leave Friday for Brainerd where he has been transferred.

Other Churches Also had Services—
Many Dinner Parties Mark
the Day in City

Brainerd made of Thanksgiving Day an occasion to attend the churches in goodly numbers, followed by feasts at home where dinner tables were filled to overflowing.

Union services were celebrated at the First Baptist church and the churches taking part in the Thanksgiving day worship were the First Baptist, First Methodist, Congregational, Episcopal and Presbyterian.

The Thanksgiving day sermon, replete with good thought and excellent delivery, was given by Rev. H. J. Wolner, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church. Mrs. Smith sang a solo. Rev. Fred Errington, pastor of the First Congregational church, read the scripture lesson. Rev. E. A. Cooke, pastor of the First Methodist church, led in prayer. Rev. C. A. Smith, pastor of the First Baptist church, pronounced the benediction. Services started at 10:30 o'clock, and concluded by noon.

Other churches having their own worship were the Zion Evangelical Lutheran church of Main and Broadway with services at 10:30 a. m.; Clara Lutheran church with an evening service; the Norwegian-Danish Lutheran church evening service; Zion Evangelical church Fourth Avenue and Forsyth street in the evening; the Swedish Bethany church with Swedish service in the morning and American in the evening. Ost, the evangelist, was the principal speaker. At the evening service the church was crowded to the doors.

Origin of the Huns.

The word "Hun" was first applied to a horde of savages, who, in the fourth century of the Christian era came into Europe from Central Asia, and under the command of Attila began to desolate the Roman empire, its colonies and dependencies. The word is an abbreviation of the Low Latin word "Hunin," meaning the Hiong-nu-Hungnook people, who, according to Chinese annals, constituted about the end of the third century B. C., a powerful empire in Central Asia.

Making State Loans On Improved Farms is Discussed

(By United Press)

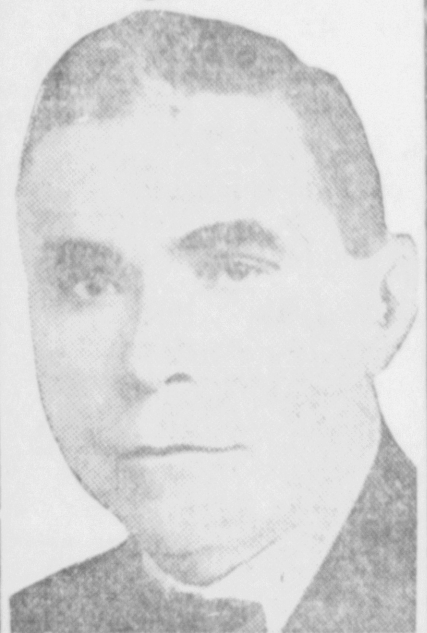

St. Paul, Nov. 26.—Plans for re-establishment of a state department for making loans on improved farm lands similar to that of the federal farm loan bank, were discussed at a meeting at the capitol today.

Woman Thinks She is Privileged to Talk

"If anyone ever had a miserable stomach I surely had. It was growing worse, too, all the time. Had severe pains and attacks every ten days or two weeks and had to call a doctor, who could only relieve me for a short while. Two years ago last February I took a treatment of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and I have not had a spell of pain or misery since. My friends just wonder that I am looking so well. I feel I am privileged to talk about it." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Johnson's Pharmacy and druggists everywhere.

Refrigeration and Meat

In less than an hour after an animal is dispatched in a Swift & Company packing plant, it is hanging up as meat in a room brought by refrigerating machinery to a temperature just above freezing.

From that time until it is in your own ice box—within two to three weeks—it is kept at the same temperature; first in the coolers at our packing plants; next on our refrigerator cars, more than 6,000 of which are constantly moving to market with their perishable cargoes; then in our refrigerator rooms at our branch selling houses; then in your dealer's ice box, and last in your own.

Only for the few minutes while it is being put into the refrigerator cars at our packing plants, or taken out of them at our branch houses, or whisked to your retailer in our trucks, is it exposed to any change of temperature.

Without a skilled use of this system of cooling, made possible by modern science, you could not get fresh meat, prepared under most sanitary conditions, except at greater expense—unless you happened to live so near live stock raising centers that your needs could be supplied from live stock raised near-by.

If the foregoing raises any question in the mind of the reader, we will endeavor to answer it, upon request.
